INSIDE 2026

If not wood –
then when?

Get started now with the full performance!

Editorial

Dear readers

Anyone familiar with our INSIDE will know that in the past, this section always featured an emotional and motivational foreword from our former managing director, Bernhard ter Hürne. Sadly, Bernhard ter Hürne passed away on 30 September 2025 – most of you know that. The void he leaves behind is immense and painful.

From now on, it is the task of Celia ter Hürne and myself to continue his life's work. And we want to do this together with all the employees of ter Hürne, with all our strength and passion. We were, are and will remain a family business. Not only because our brand bears the name of its founder Otger ter Hürne and of the subsequent generations, but also because for decades we have seen ourselves as a close-knit community that develops new, relevant products with confidence and a spirit of innovation.

If not wood – then when? With this rhetorical question on the front page, we address two key needs. Firstly, real wood is clearly the material of the future – climate-positive, healthy for the home environment and aesthetically perfect. Secondly, now is the right time to choose the best performance of Hywood and natural wood parquet by ter Hürne.

So get started with us now and take a decisive step in the right direction: towards economic success and sustainable action. But that's not all. After decades of designing floors, walls and ceilings, we are now introducing a new product that takes us into the space itself. The Divisio room divider range allows you to redefine your interior design concepts and combine open-plan living with separate functional areas. And, of course, you can rely on ter Hürne's core values here too: sophisticated design, healthy living and smart functionality.

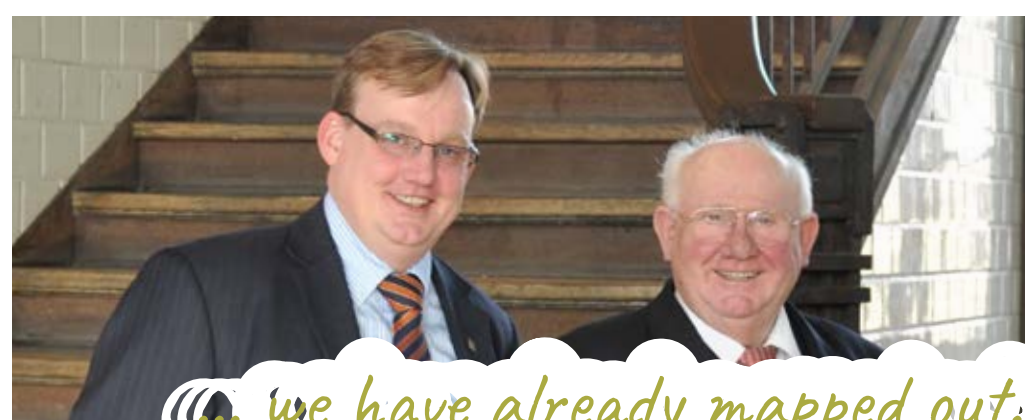

As always, INSIDE is packed with interesting topics and innovations. We hope you enjoy reading and discovering them.

Yours sincerely
Torsten Nienhaus

AESTHETICS FOR THE SENSES

A long journey, that is well worth it

Before an unfinished wood wear layer becomes a high-tech parquet surface, it has travelled a long way in the ter Hürne factory. At highly specialised production stages, it undergoes individual processing steps at the highest technological level. Before a ter Hürne parquet plank reaches the packaging line, it has travelled a distance of 432 metres.

Sanding

Targeted wood preparation

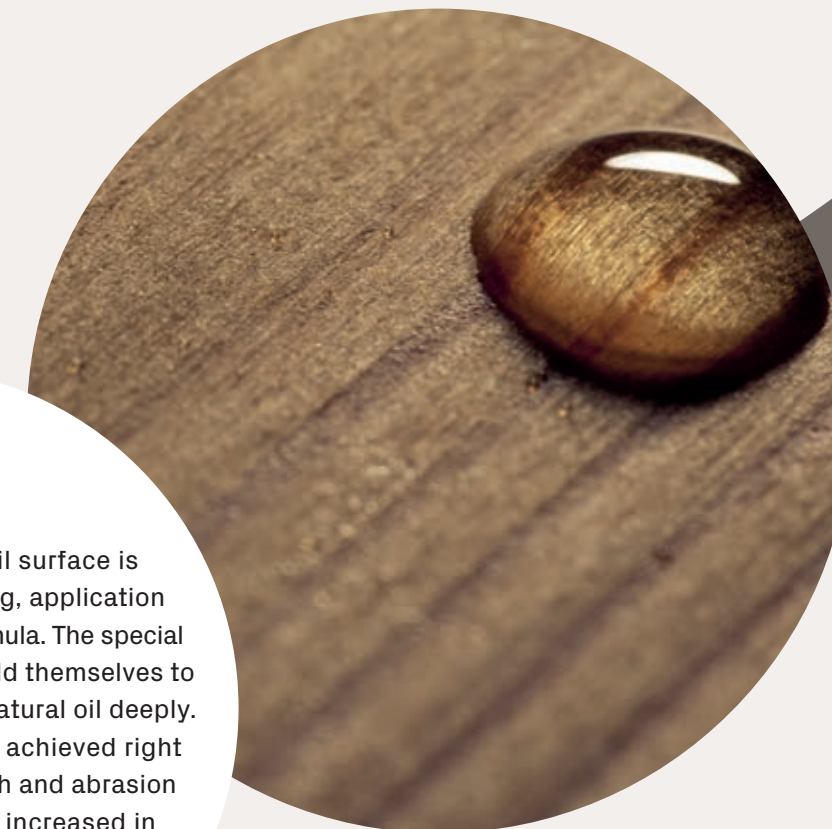

A finely sanded wood surface does not roughen after finishing with OLIO or EVO. It is noticeably more harmonious and softer. The surface is prepared at up to 6 stations using a wide variety of sanding materials. A glossy depth effect is particularly evident with dark wood types in combination with a lacquered finish.

Texturing

Haptic design and protection

We achieve the desired textural qualities with many individually configured brushes. These can be felt because soft, gentle transitions between 'mountain and valley' are created. The deep and wide structures make it possible to cleanly sand out the pore base and apply a protective coating. ter Hürne parquet defines five different textures.

Finish

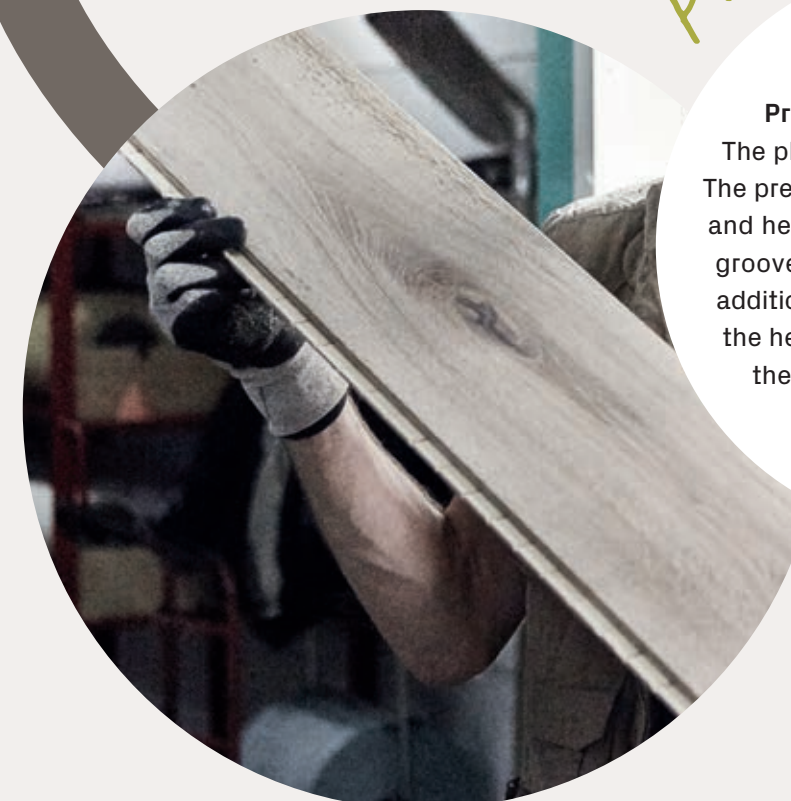

Nature Protec

The quality of the finished oil surface is always a trinity of wood sanding, application technology and oil or lacquer formula. The special ter Hürne application rollers mould themselves to the contours and penetrate the natural oil deeply. With reverse technology, this is achieved right down into the pores. The scratch and abrasion resistance for EVO have been increased in particular by the latest optimisations in the lacquer production line.

Profiling

Precision for the connection

The planks are given their final form. The precise profiling of the longitudinal and head edges, together with the 5G groove, ensures the perfect click. An additional application of wax protects the head ends – This is the basis for the strong and protected plank connection.

TER HÜRNE TECHNICAL CENTRE

Where performance has its home

At ter Hürne, our team of experts at the technical centre is working on new performance qualities for Hywood and Naturholz parquett. Intensive testing under real-life conditions is producing surfaces that combine the natural aesthetics of wood with high resistance, durability and easy maintenance. The ter Hürne technical centre is thereby becoming the starting point for a new generation of particularly high-performance wood floors.

"We are really proud of the new performance qualities, but we are constantly optimising further. The path to the ideal surface result is complex and multi-layered, and we always keep the end user's application in mind. This is how we create real wood floors that meet the highest standards."

Hand scraping

Naturholz Parquet

The wavy planing is tailored to the typical characteristics of the wood, so that prominent visual effects such as knots or swirls are deliberately brought to the fore.

Split oak

Naturholz Parquet

We mill out long splits in the wood and fill them with a special filler to create a 3D effect.

Pore gloss

Naturholz Parquet & Hywood

The surface shows no gloss effects in the pore depth – it looks matt and natural from every perspective.

Pore protection

Naturholz Parquet

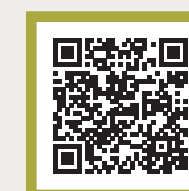

Because the brushing and texture are perfectly smoothed right down into the pores, dirt cannot adhere firmly.

THE IMPROVED HIGH-TECH LACQUER

The evolution – the highest practical value for real wood

Nature Protec becomes Nature Protec EVO! This high-tech-system has been further improved in all its performance features. The result is the best possible performance for durability, that a lacquer-sealed surface can deliver today, without detracting from the natural wood experience. Creating a surface that enhances the concept of comfort even more is the goal we have achieved.

Made for people with these priorities:

- 1 Very high practical value and user comfort in daily life
- 2 The desire for a long-lasting, silk matt look with a soft haptic

THE EMOTIONAL OIL SYSTEM

The innovation – the developing of the maximum real wood feel

For the first time, a technological triple oil application with an extra high solids content of over 60% is used. Nature Protec OLIO offers the maximum emotional experience of wood as a natural product – with a sophisticated formula of high-quality natural oils created with the OSMO experts. This is how high durability works with natural oil! This system creates a highly optimised, long-lasting practical value with a feel-good guarantee.

Made for people with these priorities:

- 1 High durability in every day use with long-lasting natural radiance
- 2 Feel the emotional experience of nature with wood in your own home

Hywood

TWO NEW TECHNOLOGIES

Real wood that makes no compromises

Hywood's success has allowed the product range to grow and to be given new names: EVO and OLIO. You have the choice: Either the improved Nature Protec EVO quality as a high-tech lacquer or the new Nature Protec OLIO as an oil finish. Each technology combination creates 'high resistance' and is categorised in its own product line, whose name is identified by the finish: Hywood EVO and Hywood OLIO. The WoodPowder technology is always an integral part of Hywood and the AquaSeal technology is always used in the baseboard and the click connection.

TO THE POINT

This strengthens the specialist trade

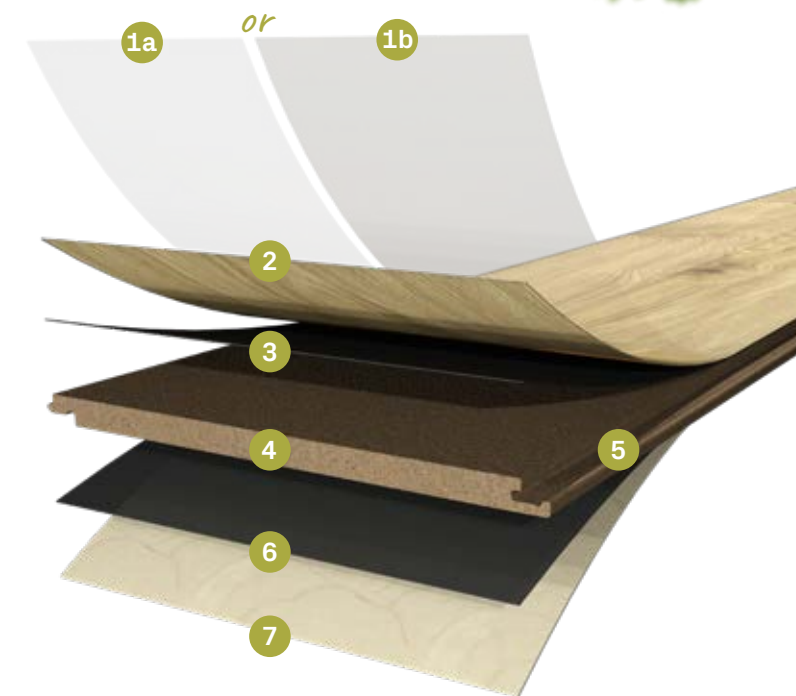

- ✓ Hywood EVO and OLIO are product concepts, which open up completely new target groups for natural and high-quality wooden floors!

A new approach to space: flexible division, open design

Divisio Room Divider

LIVING IN TIMES OF CHANGE

Dividing is the new creativity

Living requirements are constantly changing, working from home is now part of everyday life, and every square metre counts. Divisio room dividers offer stylish seclusion, structure, and multifunctionality without wasting space.

For individuals this means: greater freedom, more flexibility and spaces that adapt to their own lives. Do you share that view?

The Fact is ...

Investment in new private residential construction is declining in European countries. In contrast, the trend towards renovating old buildings and changing floor plans is on the rise. At the same time, the proportion of single-person households in large cities is growing immensely.

The Fact is ...

Changing working environments and the possibility of working from home are creating new demands on the living environment. Co-living concepts, i.e. modern, community-oriented living, also require versatile use of space.

The Fact is ...

Individual housing needs change regularly – roughly every 8 to 10 years – depending on life stages, income, health or family structure: education, partnership, starting a family, children moving out, age-appropriate living.

"When developing our room dividers, the aim is to combine functional technology with a clear, aesthetic design. I like the idea that our systems can be easily adapted to different living situations. There is a lot of future potential in this: flexible solutions that provide answers to the living requirements of tomorrow."

Julia Haveresch

Head of Product Management

IN FOCUS: LIVING IN EXISTING HOMES

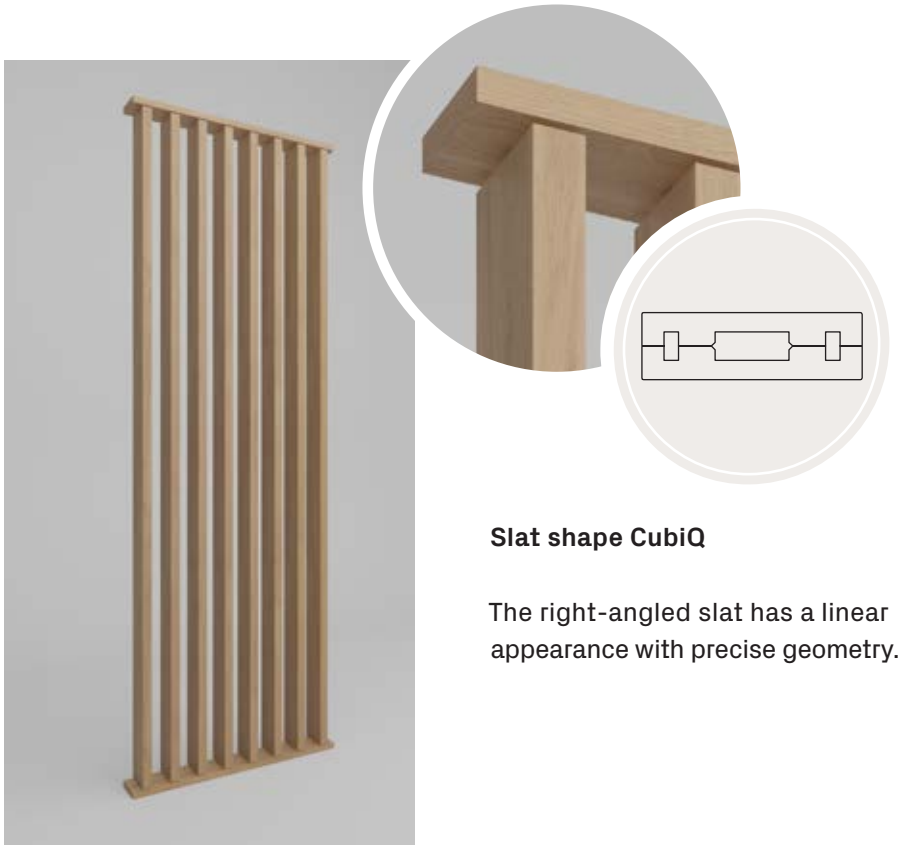

Therefore: Rethinking spaces

- ✓ Flexible & modular: rooms and interiors can be adapted for different uses
- ✓ Functional & efficient: clearly separated areas for living, working and privacy, optimal use of space
- ✓ Social & balanced: Good combination of private and communal areas
- ✓ High-quality & healthy: premium materials, pleasant indoor climate, aesthetic design

The form shapes the design

The Divisio room divider range follows a well thought-out principle: different slat shapes (format: 2,800x120x36.8mm) can be combined individually, complemented by a choice of surface finishes – either high-quality veneer or one of two decor colours.

Slat shape CubiQ

The right-angled slat has a linear appearance with precise geometry.

Each slat can be rotated individually in six positions, allowing for flexible adjustments. Coordinated mounting strips ensure a uniform appearance, while a universal set connects all elements with technical precision to create a flexible and harmonious room divider.

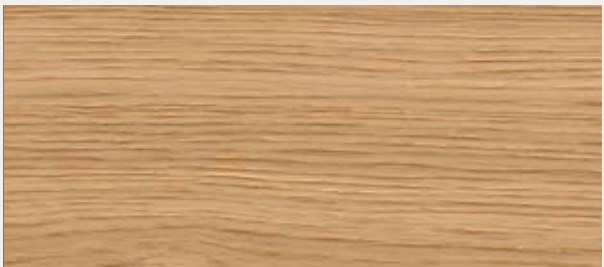

Slat shape Ovalon

The oval slat has a soft shape with harmoniously rounded contours.

THE MODULAR PRINCIPLE

The unit consists of three elements

For a room divider with 8 slats (1,000 mm), the set includes CubiQ or Ovalon slats, which can be combined in terms of shape and colour, a universal set of mounting strips and a universal connection set. The strips are colour-coordinated with the decor or veneer, marked with cutting lines and can therefore be shortened or extended.

The acoustic solution with Scandinavian flair

SilentDesign Acoustic Panels

DESIGN VARIETY AND RELAXATION

Immensely elegant

Constant loud noise is one of the biggest stress factors in our everyday lives. It favours cardiovascular diseases and leads to disorders of the nervous system. That's why our acoustic panels make a proactive contribution to healthier living and a better quality of life. And on top of that, they create a contemporary, fresh living ambience.

SilentDesign not only transforms rooms in which people like to live and work into oases of peace, but are also easy on the eye. SilentDesign creates warm, new room accents which are typically Scandinavian. Where beauty absorbs sound, a real feel-good ambience is created. And that goes for both private favourite places as well as in lively restaurants or bustling business premises.

"Nordic by nature: Anyone who enjoys clean, Scandinavian room accents can now express their own creative impulses even more fully. Our new, square SilentDesign formats realise each and every idea, especially for partial wall design with functions."

MATERIAL SELECTION AND PROCESSING

High quality in every detail

Material-Mix

Natural oiled real wood meets strong felt with a quality of 1,800 g/m². This gives each fine wood panel a high level of overall stability. Each slat is securely connected to the backing by tight stapling.

Micro bevel

All slats are precisely bevelled so that the edges have no splinters and are absolutely linear. The surface effect is also assured thanks to the different wood gradings.

Visual effects

SilentDesign offers 1-sided or 3-sided veneered slats. In both versions, the real wood veneer forms a real unit with the profile – for a little more or a little less wood look.

Sustainability

Over 50 % of SilentDesign's felt is made from recycled PET. The real wood is 100 % FSC® certified.

Noise reduction

Achieve up to 95 % sound absorption (class A) when mounted on wooden battens with 40 mm insulation

Care & UV protection

With our natural oil finish, the wood remains protected against colour changes caused by UV rays and radiates a natural freshness.
