My Ikō Premium Laminate Floor

Lived values

Editorial

The floor in your home is much more than just a covering. It's where your children learn to crawl before they take their first steps. Lego towers are built there and pictures are painted, guests come in and out, not to mention pets. There is no doubt about it: the floor plays a major role in creating a really great atmosphere for your home. And by the way, it just happens to be the largest piece of furniture in the room in terms of its surface area.

At ter Hürne, we know all about the importance of your floor, because our love of wood and its positive, natural properties have formed the basis of our company for more than 60 years. We have made a name for ourselves in the industry as one of the leading manufacturers of engineered hardwood flooring in Europe. Today, we apply all of our expertise to produce innovative floors that are ideally suited to life with all its different requirements, while in addition protecting the environment.

Healthy living is our key promise to you. Our portfolio in the real wood segment and our natural-looking collections in the wood and design floor segments all have something in common. We do not make compromises in manufacturing: not in the design, the feel, the quality or the function – and certainly not when it comes to healthy living. Throughout the entire process, from the initial concept to product development and manufacturing, all ingredients are designed to have a positive impact on the health and well-being of occupants. With us, living is naturally healthy – and simply beautiful. And that's something you can rely on – no ifs or buts.

Fact check

It's not just the individual plank that has to withstand water, but the entire floor assembly. That is why we have developed a water-resistant profile: Liquid cannot penetrate between the planks.

WATER RESISTANT

A floor for every situation

In modern apartments and houses open plan spaces are becoming ever more popular, the transitions between different living areas are fluid. This requires floor coverings that are not just visually appealing but also which can cope with the demands of everyday use. Especially in kitchens and bathrooms, water resistance plays a decisive role. Ikō is the floor that is suitable for all rooms.

24 hour water resistance

Our product management team developed Smart Connect Pro Aqua during an extensive process. This innovative click system ensures that our Ikō floor is optimally locked at the usual weak points, the profile connections, and is more resistant to water ingress. In addition the baseboard is particularly resistant to swelling, thanks to the specially developed composition of its ingredients. The result is impressive water resistance for up to 24 hours (except for the Herringbone Edition).

Our proof: The NALFA Test

How can we prove the water resistance of our floor? This is where the NALFA test comes into it. This standardised test procedure of the North American Laminate Flooring Association (NALFA) measures the performance of an installed laminate floor when exposed to standing water for 24 hours. Four different places on the laminate floor are measured before and after and visual and haptic changes to the board edges are evaluated. Our Ikō Premium laminate floor passed this test with flying colours and thus has proved it has a significantly higher water resistance than conventional laminate flooring.

SUSTAINABILITY

Ikō. Beauty with a conscience.

Ikō is an ecologically responsible floor covering with a soul of wood, combining elegance and environmental consciousness in harmony. We at ter Hürne are convinced: Its properties make it a floor covering for the future.

4 green reasons for Ikō

From sustainable sources

Ikō laminate floor captivates not just with its aesthetic appeal but equally with its environmental awareness. Manufactured using almost entirely natural materials, we systematically avoid harmful ingredients. Moreover our manufacture is based on wood from sustainable forestry and about 80 per cent comes from local forests - a clear commitment to regional responsibility.

Durable and designed for the circular economy

In the interests of the circular economy, we are increasingly using waste wood in the production of boards. We do not waste any parts of the tree, but even use what would normally remain unused. Even the glue that we use is largely derived from the resins present in the wood.

Our laminate flooring is climate-positive.

This means that the floor stores more CO₂ than we use in its production. Thus we are making a joint contribution to our world.

Good for the environment, good for you

Our Ikō Premium laminate flooring fulfils the highest ecological standards as well as the requirements for a healthy room climate. Our floors outperform the legal requirements for emission free living. So you don't just live stylishly but you can also feel good. You can find out more about this on the next page.

Our PEFC and FSC certification guarantees that we don't just promise sustainability, but implement it in every aspect of our product.

GOOD FOR YOU

Healthy living with Ikō

In a world in which we spend up to 90 per cent of our life in closed rooms, the air quality becomes a decisive factor for our health and well being. The floor covering, which comprises a large part of our living space plays a central role for the room climate and is becoming increasingly important. Because modern building insulation reduces the exchange of inside and outside air: Harmful substances from carpets, furniture and conventional flooring thus remain in the room atmosphere longer.

Not with Ikō: The floor consists almost entirely of wood, is free of plastic and harmful components such as plasticisers and chlorine - and thus guarantees that you can feel completely at ease in your home.

Did you know?

Ikō is your perfect everyday helper

It was developed to make life easier and more pleasant. The special surface structure ensures that allergy causing substances like pollen and dust mite do not stick - an especially valuable feature for allergy sufferers. What is more, the special surface coating reduces the growth of bacteria. No need to worry about spilled liquids, pets or dirty shoes. Your floor is not only clean, but also hygienic

DESIGN

Scandinavian clean to Italian elegant

Ikō is all about the naturalness and authenticity of wood. Our decor designs reflect not just the type of wood but also its fine grain and structure in accurate detail. So how are these deceptively real designs created?

The basis for the Ikō decors is real wood – the most beautiful of all

The secret lies in our meticulous processes. The Ikō collections contain decor developments which are anything else but standardised. Designers travel throughout the world to select the most beautiful, real wood samples. These then form the sound foundation of our decors. Subsequently, the wood is processed, for example by adding a plane-marked surface. We then check the effect of the individual sample planks when laid together in a room - and only select the best designs. Only then does the production of the actual decor design begin. The look of the floor is influenced by a variety of factors, including graining, pores, gloss level and bevel. These are designed by us to match the decor and the format.

On this basis, the Ikō design team has developed four Collections with a total of 36 decors, that don't just look good but perform well in everyday life.

Our goal is: To get as close as possible to our role model - nature!

"Large formats, also in herringbone designs, are trending. Minimalism and serene decors create a sophisticated, elegant backdrop, against which the other interior design elements come into their own."

ORIGINAL ACCESSORIES

The big Plus

There are so many good reasons to choose a floor from ter Hürne. One of them is that our quality management also perfectly matches the accessories to our collections in our own test laboratory.

“Our experience clearly shows that compromises in accessories are expensive in the long run. Maximum quality and longevity in flooring are always demonstrated in the interaction with the complete system: how does a certain adhesive interact with the floor undertemperature fluctuations? Which underlay material causes material to become fatigued more quickly? We ask ourselves questions like these and others every day in the laboratory and therefore know that choosing a system of proven quality is also the best way to save in the long run.”

4 good reasons why you too should rely on ter Hürne system solutions:

- Smart: You get a consistent system for every floor concept, which ensures easy and quick installation.
- Quality: The smart ter Hürne system is a guarantee for a floor with maximum quality and longevity. Because all components are perfectly coordinated with each other.
- Healthy living: We only use materials for a healthy home environment and, of course, this also applies to the accessories.
- Visual appearance: All ter Hürne floors perfectly match our skirting and step systems. This gives you a successful floor concept in terms of appearance.

By the way: it is particularly important for water resistance to use the right underlay material. ter Hürne also offers a suitable solution here!
